lectmen's meeting.

Led by Beth Lawton, summer playground coordinator, the youngsters arrived carrying a totem pole, depicting the signs the Wampanoag Indian tribe worshipped. The totem pole was a gift to the town in celebration of Indian Heritage Day. One of the four cardboard boxes comprising the pole had to be removed to fit it into the office.

A collection of poems, readings and art work were presented to Selectmen by "tribal members" John Ferreira, Brenda Medeiros, Wayne Medeiros, Kristina Ponte, Karen Rose, Richard Rose and Jennifer Ferreira.

Wayne Medeiros read his contribution:
A suitable one for Mattapoisett ---

"The Wampanoag Boy"

I am a Wampanoag Indian boy
The seashore is my pride and joy
I love to catch fish for a tasty dish
For my family to enjoy.

Ms. Lawton explained that the children had spent last week learning about Indian life and traditions. She had invited two Wampanoag Indians from Plimoth Plantation to speak to the children.

Selectmen Chairman John N. DeCosta thanked the young people for their gift and for the enjoyment of their poems and exchanged a "WUNNISH" - thank you - among the Selectmen.

GIFT FROM ROCHESTER SELECTMAN

Although not on the agenda, Selectmen greeted their counterpart from Rochester, Selectman David Hughes, who was the bearer of a gift for Selectman James F. Huntoon.

Huntoon explained that at a recent tri-town meeting in Marion he "dipped into the jelly bean jar of Selectman Betsy Parks". Hughes countered saying that "Huntoon ate all of Betsy's jelly beans", as he presented Huntoon with a gallon jar of jelly beans complete with a label on the top reading "Jim's Beans". Executive Secretary Carol Adams was heard to say, "Don't leave them around here!"

PETITION RECEIVED

Selectmen received a petition signed by 38 residents of Acushnet Road protesting the excessive speed on that road.

Joseph M. Frates, Jr. of 159 Acushnet Road presented the board with a map and the petition requesting the town ask the state to have a survey made of the one mile stretch of road from the Acushnet Road cranberry bog north to Tinkham Lane and that the road be posted at 20 miles per hour. Frates noted the present rate of speed is 30 miles per hour, but is not posted and does not have a dividing line.

Frates' request is based on the build-up of homes over the past nine years and the large number of children living in that area. He said there are 24 children in that area from the age of 6 months to 17 years, some attending special needs classes; there are six bus school stops; 13 new homes, with two more proposed and one sawmill.

Selectmen have asked the state D.P.W. to conduct a survey. Carol Adams, executive secretary, said the survey should be conducted within two weeks.

RECEIVED A COMPLAINT ON NOISE

Selectmen received a complaint from David Tatelbaum, 22 Homestead Court, regarding the noise emanating from an event held at the Holy Ghost Grounds on Park Street (which abuts Homestead Court).

Selectmen Chairman John N. DeCosta noted the event was the Holy Ghost feast which is held once a year and has been held every year since he was a boy. The complaint was filed with a note to check next year.

PARKING SITUATION ON MECHANIC STREET

Selectmen met with Stanley Ennis, the Police Department's Safety Officer, and James Nunes, member of the highway department, to discuss the parking situation on Mechanic Street.

Following last week's meeting with Mechanic Street residents and the Selectmen's decision to review "no parking" streets, Ennis said he was approached by residents of that street to explain the controversy.

Ennis and Nunes both explained the hazardous condition when parking is allowed on both sides of the street, especially near Church Street. Nunes cited the difficulty in snow plowing the street with his 9-foot plow and of the many times he has had to knock on doors asking that owners move their cars.

Nunes and Ennis added that parking on Baptist Street is becoming a problem. Here again there is a "no parking" ban, but there are no signs posted. Carol Adams said, "I found a big discrepancy between where signs are supposed to be and where they are." Ennis stressed that "you've got to be consistent or you're going to have problems".

Selectman Frank Suzan suggested maybe we should have a snow removal plan. Selectmen agreed to send memos to Police Chief James Moran, Fire Chief Paul Bradley and Highway Surveyor Manuel J. Nunes requesting their comments and recommendations as to the no parking areas and a snow removal plan.

SHORES OPEN FOR CLAM TAKING

Selectmen received notice from Marion that its shores will be opened to the taking of softshell clams on Wednesday and Sundays with the exception of Kittansett Club Haven, Haskell's Island and Silvershell Beach.

QUAHOG LICENSE SUSPENDED

Selectmen agreed to suspend the commercial quahog license of Robert J. Burke of 53 Angelica Avenue for the remainder of the year at the recommendation of Shellfish Constable Alfred Pauline.

Pauline informed the board that Burke has been warned on three occasions that commercial quahogging must be done in no less than four feet of water. Burke has not complied with this order and has also permitted other people to use his permit.

LETTER TO SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Selectmen will send a letter to the Mattapoisett School Committee thanking it for "their continued awareness of town finances. The balance of appropriations that were turned back to the town represents the concern that your committee has continually shown. The Board is well aware of the hard work that it takes on your part in keeping within present budget restrictions."

SECRETARY GETS SALARY INCREASE

Selectmen approved an increase in the salary of their secretary, Elaine Sylvia, from Grade 4, Step I, $162.83, to Grade 5, Step 2, $175.39.

and experience the "classic charm" of the 18th Century.

Although her design is more than 200 years old, the Peapod still ranks as one of the finest small boats available for sailing, recreational rowing, and as a yacht tender. Completely hand-laid in fiberglass and liberally trimmed in mahogany and brass, she features a centerboard and kickup rudder allowing easy exploration of our coastal marshlands. She can be car-topped, trailered, or hauled in the back of your pickup. Her fine lines and seaworthy characteristics make her the perfect example of traditional New England craftsmanship.

Molly Muldoon, a first grader at Center School, told her teacher, Mrs. Bates, that her father's boat was being put into the water that day. Mrs. Bates seemed to feel that not only was this occurrence special to Molly, but it would be a learning experience for the whole class. So, some teachers' aides graciously assisted and the whole class was brought down to the pier to watch the launching of Molly's father's boat.

In addition to Mrs. Bates and the aides

Johnson (Junior) with a 690 (Level 2), and Jeff Humphrey (Freshman) with a 750 (Level 1).

Ms. Gracia, a junior, from Mattapoisett, will be the captain of the Math Team in 1983-1984 and hopes to attend Harvard University upon graduation next June.

Letters to the Editor

"MATTAPOISETT (TRULY) IS SPECIAL"

Two months ago while my husband and I were visiting his family in Mattapoisett we witnessed what seemed to be an ordinary event for the people of Mattapoisett - a boat launching - while the event itself is quite ordinary for a waterside town, there was something very special about this launching.

being so obliging, the workers from Brownell Boat Works kindly disrupted their busy day of launching boats to wait until the whole class arrived for the viewing!

LETTER TO THE EDITOR
BOARD OF SELECTMEN:

As a long time summer resident and taxpayer in the Town of Mattapoisett, I was appalled to read in the Presto Press how gullible you were to a sleek salesman for Mass. Gas & Electric Co. Light pollution in the wharf area with ugly, too bright sodium lights should be avoided.

Those lights will be shining in people's eyes a great distance away from the area, robbing us of some of the pleasure we look forward to all year.

I have no say as to how my tax money is spent in this town, but I had hoped we would be given some consideration.

Coming to Zeiterion:

Those madcap creators, the American Ballet Comedie, will bring their inspired lunacy to the Zeiterion Theatre on Thursday through Saturday, August 25, 26 and 27 at 8:30 p.m. each evening. This return engagement is eagerly awaited by those who roared at their first New Bedford appearance last January, and by those who heard about, but missed, the unique, fun-filled evening.

The American Ballet Comedie is a seven-member company with the uncanny ability to move an audience to laughter and tears with fast-paced, high energy virtuosity. Wonderful disciplined dancers, fearless acrobats, and hysterical clowns - this world-famous troupe has brought their blend of styles and satire to audiences of all nations and ages. They have been described as resembling the aftermath of a summit meeting attended by George Ballanchine, Martha Graham, Jose Greco and Bob Fosse and presided over by Ernie Kovacs.

Special highlights of their return engagement will be the company presentation of a solo work by choreographer May O'Donnell called "Pursuit of Happiness", set to music by Glenn Miller. Another new company work will be "Splash" by choreographer Danny Buraszeski, set to sixties Rock and Roll music. This is the first time Bob Bowyer and JoAnn Bruggeman, creators of the American Ballet Comedie, have used other choreographers' works. Their August engagement at the Zeiterion will also include three New England premieres: "Dance to the Moonlight Sonata", "All That Pelvis", and "A Best Friend".

Inspired pieces from their first engagement will also be seen: "La Stampa da Feeta", "Black Cockroach Pas de Deux" which is like a Black Flag commercial gone wild, and "The Buttercups" which parodies the Motown sound in your backyard garden. All were audience crowd pleasers at their last visit.

A special children's performance on Friday, August 26, at 10:00 a.m. will introduce young people to this very entertaining and funny troupe. The American Ballet Comedie will make this special show a zany blend of humor and beauty in Dance that will tickle everyone's funny bone.

One critic has stated "I can't recall when we've had so much fun in one evening."

A special children's performance will be held on Friday, August 26th, at 10:00 a.m. Tickets are $2.50 for children under 14. All tickets can be purchased at the Zeiterion Theatre Box Office or reserved by calling 994-2900.

The Center grounds are open 365 days a year from dawn to dusk. The grounds include four walking trails including the newly opened Forest Management Trail. The Chaypee Woods and the Osprey Point Trails descend from the Center building to the rocky causeway, saltmarsh and Slocum River. From these trails and the building, ospreys are often sighted fishing in the Slocum River or returning to their nest at the State Park. The West Swamp Trail passes through the area most recently used as farmland and along a fresh water wooded swamp, a common ecosystem in this region.

The Lloyd Center building is open to the public Tuesday through Sunday 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. There is no entrance fee. The building includes a display of salt water aquaria prepared by students and staff in the Center's Summer Program. The animals and plants in these aquaria are a representative sample of what lives in the local estuary.

The Resource Library of Natural Science, Coastal and Estuarine, and other materials is open for public use and is a loaning library to members of the Dartmouth Natural Resources Trust, the Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies, or students who need to borrow materials for school projects. The Resource Library includes over 1,000 books, many periodicals, and a vertical file of materials on a diversity of subject areas pertaining to our region.

Dartmouth residents are encouraged to join the Dartmouth Natural Resources Trust. Members of the Trust automatically receive all the benefits of the Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies membership.

People who do not live in Dartmouth should join the Lloyd Center directly. Benefits of membership include quarterly newsletters, announcements of Lloyd Center events, discounts on T-shirts and any events for which a fee is charged, and special events just for members. Most importantly, membership

From Rochester to Rochester

ATTENDED 125th BIRTHDAY OF ROCHESTER, MINN.

Selectman and Mrs. Ralph Walker of Rochester were guests recently at the 125th birthday celebration of Rochester, Minnesota. Other guests included mayors and their wives from three other Rochesters in the United States: Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin. They were all guests of Rochester, Minnesota Mayor Chuck Hazama and the 125th Anniversary Committee.

They were honored at a reception on the Friday night. The week-long festivities ended on Sunday with a grand parade.

Incidentally, Rochester, Massachusetts is believed to be the oldest of all the Rochesters in the United States. Mr. Walker has data showing back in 1698 a relative was granted a substantial acreage within town limits in return for establishing an ironworks.

With Mr. Walker's long experience on the Board he was the Dean of the "Mayors".

REPRINTED WITH PERMISSION FROM "THE ANCHOR" Issue July 29, 1983; Published by the Diocese of Fall River.

The Decent Thing to Do

The recent censure by the House of Representatives of Congressman Gerald Studds has a far reaching implication for many voters of this diocese. It has always been the editorial position of this paper that Catholics have a serious obligation of voting in accordance with a conscience firmly rooted in the faith teaching of their church. The concept of dividing one's private beliefs from one's public position is simply a ridiculous excuse for burying honesty and truth. Too many in politics and private life have used this dual standard of judgment for personal justification.

It should be noted that the following reflections are offered for the Catholic readership of The Anchor. They are not to be misconstrued as an attempt to impose a particular faith value on the general public. Rather, they should be seen as pertinent considerations geared to reinforce a code of moral action shaped by Catholic thought.

It would be a neglect of editorial responsibility were this issue ignored or buried as an insignificant news story. A large voting bloc in Congressman Studd's district in this diocese is Catholic in faith acknowledgment. It would be hoped, of course, the same could be said of the commitment of these voters. Therefore it would be well for the electorate to realize the serious intent of the House in voting for censure.

The action in the case of Mr. Studds reflects his grave breach of public trust. It should be realized that Congress does not employ censure without due reflection, deliberation and reason. It is not used as a tool to solve mere political issues. It is a process whereby elected officials try to keep their own house in order for the integrity of the nation.

What right has a Congressman to seduce a teenager via alcohol? Its abusive use is more than evident in this situation. When the case involves teenage pages in the Congress, the responsibility of members towards them is apparent.

Pages, be they male or female, are wards of the Congress. For a member to abuse this trust is nothing more than exploitation. Studds' assertion that pages should be regarded as adults is unacceptable. In no way can the incident in his case be considered one between consenting adults. Adulthood is not a matter of personal conjecture. A 16-year-old boy, plied with alcohol until four a.m., is in no condition to give informed consent or refusal to any action that may be proposed.

In an age when government is spending millions of dollars and man-hours to control excessive use of alcohol, it is indeed sad that a Congressman of the United States should for his own ends ply a page with alcohol.

Congressman Studds' reaction to the situation has done nothing more than aggravate it. His deliberate attempt to avoid discussion of his censure is an affront to the House in which he sits, to say nothing of his constituents. To cast aside the censure by reflecting that it is good every now and then for a member of Congress to undergo some sort of correction was nothing more than a blatant insult. How can fellow members of Congress remain loyal to one who seemingly defies all for which that body stands in its attempts to maintain standards of conduct expected of elected officials who receive the public's trust.

There are many who feel that the Studds voting record should be considered in weighing his prospects for re-election. One wonders what such people would say if he were as determined a conservative as he is a liberal. That aside, it should be said that the Congressman's grave breach of moral responsibility is an overriding consideration.

With the evidence in this matter in mind, together with the urgent need to restore public confidence in the integrity of our elected officials and to uphold basic moral standards in our social order, one can see but one solution to this embarrassing affair.

Painful as it may be for some to accept, Congressman Studds should not be representing the people of Southeastern Massachusetts in the House of Representatives.

The decent thing for Mr. Studds to do would be to resign.

AMEN, AMEN, AMEN. Clarence Verdi

We learn to speak and to write, not because we intend to become orators or novelists, but because speaking and writing are necessary for getting along in modern, civilized life.

So should we learn to dance - not only to become professionals - but also because in dance schools we develop poise, confidence, creative expression, cultural appreciation - and these qualities have become just as important as writing and speaking in today's cultivated society.
